

Supporting Siblings...

benefits everyone!

There are a million good reasons to financially support the Sibling Support Project. In fact, there are seven million good reasons. That's because most of the seven million US citizens with disabilities have at least one typically-developing brother or sister.

We passionately believe that when brothers and sisters have the support and information they need, everyone will benefit—parents, taxpayers, service providers, typically-developing sibs and especially the family member who has a disability.

The Sibling Support Project is a national project dedicated to the life-long concerns of sibs. We help local communities start their own Sibshops. We connect young, teen, and adult sibs at workshops, conferences, and online. And we educate service providers and parents about siblings' unique joys and concerns. Because we're not government-funded, we can only do this with your help.

Brothers and sisters are an incredibly deserving population. Supporting them now will benefit their sibs with special needs in the days to come. Can we count on you to invest in the future of families with your generous gift?
